So that we may ascertain the copyright status of your manuscript, we ask you to answer the following questions:

- 1) Have parts of your manuscript been published in journals or books? (If your answer is no, proceed no further.)

- 2) If your answer is yes, please provide details, identifying the parts and providing the names of the journals or the titles of the books in which they appeared, and the dates of publication. (You may write on the back of this sheet, or use a separate sheet, if necessary.)

- 3) In which cases did you assign all rights to the original publisher (by contract or by letter), and in which cases did the original publisher obtain only rights of first use? (The latter may be assumed if the essay was published in or after 1978 in the United States and if you did not assign copyright to the publisher.)

- 4) In which cases have you revised the published material to such an extent that you consider the result a new piece?

- 5) In which cases have your revisions consisted of additions to the original pieces? In which cases, mainly of deletions?
